
THAT MAMMOTH UNdertaking of your community newspaper, the diamond jubilee progress edition which made its appearance last week apparently was well received by the readers, if the phone calls and personal visits are any criteria.

On behalf of the staff (regular members) and the "volunteers" who worked so diligently in putting out the largest paper ever produced in in Campbell, we thank you for the kind words that came our way.

Your response sort of made it all worthwhile, even if some of us are a little worse for wear and tear because of it.

We are pleased that you liked it.

We might also add that even the flu bug was considerate.

The bug hit us right after the finishing touches were put on the edition, laying us low for a day or so.

But, at least, that pesky bug had the decency to wait until the job was completed.

THE CALLS FROM OUR readers have been much appreciated, as we said. But we really received a lift when George Kane, publisher of the Los Gatos Times-Observer, took time off from his busy schedule to pay the office a personal visit and commend us for our efforts.

When an old pro like Kane gives a pat on the back, that really means something in the trade.

To those who have called in and asked for extra papers, we are happy to report that we took the precaution to increase the press run enough so that we think we can accommodate all the requests.

Copies of the edition will also be at the City Hall and at the Chamber of Commerce office.

NOT TOO SURPRISING many readers indicated that the reproductions of first issues in 1895 were classics.

We thought so, too.

And that page of headlines taken from The Press through the years, compiled by Don Hebard, rated high in reader interest.

It really was a thumb-nail historical sketch of this community.

Obviously a community newspaper provides the basic source for a community's historical background....a week-to-week chronicling of current events becomes a meaningful history when viewed and reviewed years later.

Unfortunately there is not a complete file of this newspaper dating from the first issue in 1895 to the present. The early issues were not bound annually as they have been for the past 13 years or so.

But Hebard found enough of the oldies to come up with some real gems.

Many of the tidbits he uncovered were not used.

However, from time to time, we hope to insert some of them in this column.

We are sure that many of you would appreciate the change of pace.

SOMETIME AGO IN THIS column we made mention of the problems caused by overlapping boundaries of the various governmental jurisdictions as illustrated when a car collided with a train on Pollard Road.

Units from the county, highway patrol, Los Gatos and Campbell arrived on the scene. It was estimated that 18 pieces of equipment rolled to the area.

The accident occurred in one of those particular spots in the area where the boundaries apparently are somewhat fuzzy.

Actually the collision did take place in Campbell but it was right on the line so to speak.

We did not mean to imply that there was sloppy dispatching involved which cuased all the equipment to

Panel discussion groups feature Community Congress on March 15

Leaders in the five panel discussion groups who will participate in the third annual Congress for Community Progress on Saturday, March 15, at West Valley College, held "briefing" sessions this week in preparation for the event.

Using the theme "Moving Forward", the third Congress, of which the Rev. W.H. (Ben) Gould is chairman, hopes to attract a cross-section of the community, in order to ascertain the desires and goals of the citizens themselves.

Civic leaders maintain that the first two congresses have proved invaluable as a guideline for community development. They expect the third Congress to accomplish even more.

This year a definite attempt had been made by the Congress committee to involve more citizens and to present panels that will represent almost all facets of community life.

Residents of the community are urged to register at once for Congress. A registration fee of $2.50 will include lunch. Those interested should fill out the blank and return it to the Chamber of Commerce office, 100 W. Rincon Ave., at once.

Panel A, Community Administration, Bob Stephens, leader, will discuss the question: How can city and county government improve its service for the coming year?

Panel B, Community Education, Bruce Stevenson, leader, will discuss current and future facilities and enrollment, curriculum, communication and innovation.

Panel C, Community Economic Growth. Tom Snow-

Parks, trailers stir residents

Issues before City Council next Monday create civic interest

Some idea as to the citizen reaction to two current civic issues (1) storage of boats and trailers in front yards and (2) a possible park bond election should be gained at the City Council meeting next Monday night, March 10.

Boat and trailer owners have drawn a bead on the city hall since the first reading on Feb. 24 of an ordinance which would prohibit the storage of boats, trailers or camper-tops in front or side yards.

The ordinance comes up for its second reading on Monday.

If a majority of the Council approves, it will be adopted and go into effect in 30 days. There will be one year of grace, before enforcement, however.

Trailer and boat owners have circulated petitions protesting the proposed ordinance; they plan to present the petitions Monday night.

Spearheading the drive against the ordinance are Jim Goodwin, 186 N. First; Herbert L. Reaves, of 505 Sobrato and Jim Armstrong or 204 N. First.

They claim that the ordinance is "a direct invasion of their constitutional rights as citizens and property owners".

PARK BONDS

The City Council on Monday may also decide whether to call a bond election in June for the acquisition of land for a city park.

Up before the Council is the appeal by the Parks Commission of a Planning Commission ruling approving a 288-unit apartment complex adjacent to the city owned Rincon Park.

Since the Parks Commission first appealed the ruling of the Planners in Jan., many attempts have been made to find an answer to the sticky question.

At the last Council meeting, Don Hebard, chairman of the parks commission, announced that the owners, Don Hiatt and Fred Zolezzi, and the developers, Guild West, represented by Paul Frechette, had agreed to sell the 8.5 acre parcel adjoining Rincon Park to the city.

A city bond issue would be necessary to raise funds for the purchase, Hebard said.

Zolezzi explained that the price to the city would be $34,000 per acre with the city paying an additional $2000 per month for interest and taxes until a bond issue could be held in approximately four months.

Frechette said the developers would take $2000 for their interest.

Because of this announcement, the Council at Hebard's request, deferred action on the appeal until March 10 to allow the matter to be explored more fully and for the city manager to present an approximate cost breakdown.

City Manager Bob Stephens estimated this week that a bond issue of approximately

City rule irks senior citizens

Representatives of senior citizen groups are expected to appear at the City Council Monday night to protest the recent housing action taken by the Council.

By a 3-2 vote (Mayor Bill Smeed, Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Ed Rogers vs. Councilmen Homer Hyde and Dean Chamberlin) the Council refused to lift the requirement that limits only 25% of any housing unit to be used in the rent subsidy program.

Ralph Carnett wants to build 40 units on San Tomas at Latimer to be rented to those 62 years and over under the rent subsidy program. Carnett claims to have the approval of both the county and federal authorities for the 100% program of housing for the elderly.

Warning flasher goes into action at school

A unique pedestrian crosswalk warning flasher has gone into operation at Rosemary School on heavily-traveled Hamilton Ave.

The flasher is an additional safeguard for the youngsters who must cross the 100-foot wide Hamilton Ave. which carries 20,000 vehicles daily in its five lanes.

• An adult crossing guard has been employed for a number of years at the location.

Parents, and school and city officials have been concerned over the increasing volume of high speed commuting traffic which coincides with the maximum student peak in the morning and evening.

The flasher system was devised when the disadvantages to a regular traffic signal at the location with push button control were pointed out. A traffic signal had been suggested originally by all concerned as the solution to the problem to minimize the hazards at the crossing.

According to Bill Wren, director of public works department, the close proximity to two other complex signal systems (Winchester Blvd. and San Tomas Expressway) was a factor in trying to find another way to solve the problem.

It was felt that another traffic interruption was undesirable and, in addition, there could be a tendency on

First, (pictured above with his two youngsters, Karen and Jimmy and the family trailer) is one of the opponents of the proposed city ordinance that would prohibit the storage of boats or trailers in front yards in town. Commission rejects rezoning for proposed '7-11' market

A so-called "convenience center" including a proposed "7-11" market to be located at Burrows and Pollard Roads was rejected by the Planning Commission on Monday night.

The commission on Monday actually turned down the zone change request of Jerry F. Saia from R-1 (residential) to P-D (planned development) for the second time.

In December it was disapproved but had been returned to the Commission by the City Council for presentation of additional information.

The planning commissioners, however, did not think there was enough new evidence to warrant approval.

In December the applicant had submitted plans only for the 7-11 store. Since that time plans for additional stores had been drafted.)

Residents of the area around the proposed convenience center were well represented at the meeting. The majority of those speaking were opposed to changing the residential zone to a commercial project such as the 7-11 store.

Telling blows against the zone change were struck by Mrs. Evelyn Lloyd, 1313 Estrellita Way, Mrs. W. E. Evans, 1431 Juanita Way and Mrs. Madge Overhouse, 885 Pollard Road.

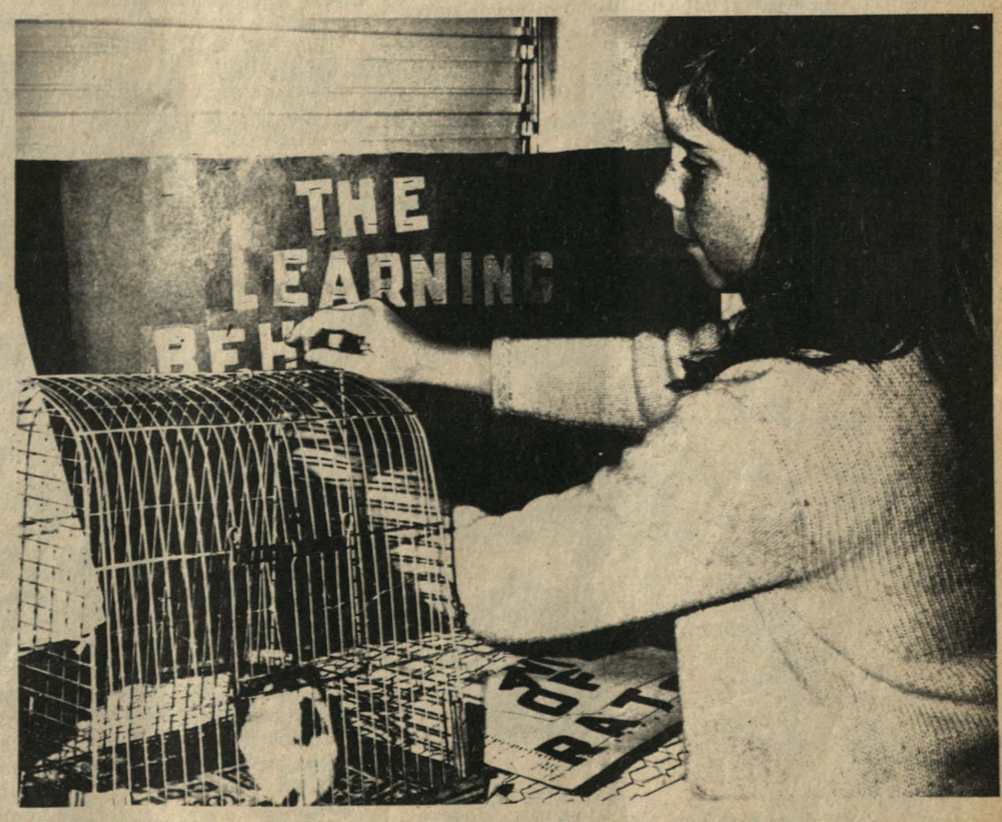
Finalists will be selected from ten divisions, five in the biological science area, grades 4 to 8 and five in the physical science area, grades 4 to 8.

Serving as official hosts and coordinator of the awards assembly will be David Mac Leod, principal of Castlemont School. A special display of a PG&E Mobile Atomic Power Unit will be on exhibit.



RATS FOR SCIENCE FAIR—Claudia LaFollette is conducting an experiment with rats to help understand their learning behavior. Claudia, a fifth grader from Forest Hill School, is entering the rat project in the Campbell Union School District's twelfth annual science fair which will be held March 22 at Castlemont School. Twenty schools are entering projects for judging in the Science Fair which is open to the public.

Editorial

Civic interest shows

By one of those quirks in timing, two of the issues before the City Council next Monday night (March 10) have stirred the residents of this community.

In one case citizen groups are urging the City Council to act and in the other case citizens are asking the Council not to act.

On one hand, civic-minded citizens are interested in getting the City Council to take action toward calling a bond election for the acquisition of park land.

On the other hand, many citizens are urging the City Council to refrain from adopting a proposed ordinance that would prohibit the storage of trailers, boats, etc., in front yards of residences.

While we sympathize with the position in which the councilmen find themselves on these two issues, we also are convinced that this stirring by the citizens is healthy for the community as a whole, provided that tempers and emotions are kept under control by both advocates and opponents of the issues before the Council.

It takes issues such as the ones that are on the Council agenda next Monday night to emphasize how important it is to have home rule on the local level where the average citizen can get up at a Council meeting and be sure that his feelings will be recognized.

It is a pretty safe bet that, if the council chambers are jammed because of an issue before the City Council, most people in town are aware of the situation that caused the interest.

We are well aware that many issues are much more complex than they first appear.

The City Council must act in good conscience even if, at times, such action may be the unpopular way to go.

We think this city is fortunate in having councilmen of the caliber of the five men who now govern this municipality.

But that does not mean that we always will agree with their actions.

We sincerely believe that calling for a bond vote for park land acquisition as soon as possible is a necessary step for the community.

We are convinced that it is imperative to reserve this community's limited open space and that the current situation involving the city-owned Rincon Park is a critical one for this community's future.

The citizens in a bond election called for the purpose of obtaining funds for park land thus will have the opportunity to decide the issue, after all facts of the case have been presented.

It would be difficult to find a more fair method than that.

The issue over the proposed ordinance which would prohibit the storage of trailers, boats, etc., in front yards, however, is not so clear cut.

There is no question that some of the equipment that is now stored in either the front or side yards in this city does detract from the attractiveness of the community as a whole.

On the other hand, the argument advanced that such controls would be invasion of personal privacy, inasmuch as driveways, front yards and side yards are private property, has considerable merit.

It is our opinion, however, that the problem of storage of boats and trailers is not a pressing one.

There are other civic issues that take precedence over the storage ordinance.

We sincerely believe that the problem needs much more study and research for there are many ramifications to it.

And there is also the question of possible enforcement.

We understand that in some cities, although such an ordinance is on the books, the enforcement of same is lax.

We maintain that, if a statute is not to be enforced, it would be a useless gesture to adopt it in the first place.

IT WAS A COINCIDENCE that on the Monday night before the publication of the progress edition, the City Council, gave the green light to the West Valley Historical Society to start a fund toward obtaining a bust of Benjamin Campbell that will be placed in the new City Hall.

You will recall that one of the features of our diamond jubilee progress edition was a reproduction of the first issue (June 1, 1895) of the Weekly Visitor, the predecessor of The Campbell Press.

The first page of the Weekly Visitor was devoted mainly to the history of Campbell which began in 1851 when Banjamin Campbell arrived on the scene.

The second page of that first issue was devoted mainly to reminiscences of Benjamin Campbell of his early settlement in California, told in his own words which were quoted from a speech he had delivered before the Old Settlers Meeting on Feb. 22 of that year, 1895.

They had an Old Settlers Meeting in 1895!

We know that sounds odd but you must remember that Campbell had been around for 44 years by 1895.

-0-

IN THE LETTER TO THE City Council, requesting that a bust of Ben Campbell be placed in the new City Hall, Jean Gomes, president of the West Valley Historical Society wrote: "It is our thinking that some of this City should be recognized and preserved. Benjamin Campbell not only founded Campbell, but this City is one of the few in the State that was named after its founder."

The Press in its progress edition certainly can take credit for "preserving" some of the history of Campbell....As a matter of fact there even was a picture of old Ben in that issue, which the Historical Society can copy for a bust of Campbell in the City Hall.

Just another service offered by your community newspaper.

$313,500 would be necessary to acquire only the 8.5 acres; pay the taxes and interest until an election ($8,000); pay the developers ($2,000) and pay $12,500 for other costs, including the election itself.

Stephens also pointed out that there are two county parcels adjacent to the park that the Parks Commission has recommended that the city also acquire.

One 2½-acre parcel is listed at $56,000 and a 1¼-acre parcel at $31,000.

If it was desired to acquire these parcels, it would be necessary to increase the proposed bond issue to $401,000.

Stephens also estimated that the maximum tax rate increase would be eight cents per $100 assessed valuation or about $4.00 per year on a $20,000 home.

Many citizen groups have already indicated that they will work for the passage of a bond issue for park land acquisition and have urged the City Council to call the election in June. Registered voters are encouraged to make their feelings on the matter known to the City Council.

the part of the kids to dash across the street on "red" because the long-cycle system would force a lengthy pedestrian waiting period.

The glaringly visible flasher system that was installed is programmed to operate three times each weekday at the peak of student foot traffic.

A key-controlled switch also allows actuation during special times of demand.

Wren hopefully feels that the flasher will achieve two main objectives: (1) reduction of vehicular speeds and (2) the increased awareness of the driver that the crossing guard and his charges are likely to be around.

Included in the installation are large signs on each of the mounting poles which advise that a "25 MPH-WHEN FLASHING" rule is in effect.

Wren said that the flasher system is going to be watched carefully and, if it proves satisfactory, it could conceivably become a standard at other critical locations in Campbell.

He also points out that the cost of the installation of the flasher system is $3500 as compared to $15,000 for a complicated traffic signal system.

City receives beautification award plaque

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman of the Campbell Beautification committee, returned home last week following a trip to Washington, D.C. where she was presented with a Distinguished Achievement Award on the behalf of the city of Campbell for the excellent work done in helping Campbell to be a more beautiful place to live.

Campbell was one of 10 cities in the classification of under 25,000 population to receive recognition, out of a total of 182 entries. Special mention was made by the awards committee for the Joseph V. Gomes park completed this year.

Mrs. Watson, who was accompanied by her husband, Courtland, enjoyed a meeting with Congressman Charles Gubser and were his guests at the Capitol Hill dining club. They found Gubser well informed about the district area he serves and he was especially interested in the "Pruneyard" brochure the Watson's brought him and also the Campbell Youth Employment bureau.

While in Washington the Watson's toured the city and commented on the contrast between the new buildings on one side and the burned out riot areas on the other. Mrs. Watson spent a good deal of her time looking over the scrapbooks submitted by the other cities, and accumulating ideas which could be employed in the Campbell beautification scheme.

mission finally settled the shake roof question for the 40-unit apartment planned by Ralph Carnett at 260 N. San Tomas near Latimer. The Commission had deadlocked twice before on the shake issue. Absence of a commissioner on each previous occasion had caused an even split in the voting.

With Frank Klein absent Monday night, the vote was 4-2 to require a shake roof for the apartment facing San Tomas. Dale Scott and Merril Grim were unshakeable and held out for shakes all the way. But the day was carried by Thayer Lyons, Ed Pack, Jack Healey and Kel Young.

In another involved and complicated prezoning, zoning and re-zoning action, the Commission approved the request of John Bruno and J. F. Gemma for rezoning property (from C-2-S to R-3-S) at 2265 S. Bascom, adjacent to the Bohnett School. Parcels on Apricot Ave. are involved also in the plans for apartments planned on the site. These parcels, now in the county, were pre-zoned to R-3-S instead of R-2-S that the Commission had originally put on them. (If you are confused, don't worry, some of the commissioners were, too. Just join the club.)

A use permit was approved for Eastfield for a portable building to be used until 1970 when permanent buildings are planned. Karl Marshall, Eastfield director, described the needs for the building.

In other actions, the Commission:

APPROVED—

Four-unit apartment on Superior Drive for Alfred F. Davis.

Six-unit apartment at 1305 W. Campbell for Rolland L. Bruntz.

Six-unit apartment at 20 LaVonne Drive for George H. Coombs.

Real estate office at 1374 E. Hamilton for Chester W. Allen.

Phase Phase III of Rolling Hills Shopping Center at San Tomas and Hacienda to include a liquor store.

Contractor's yard at 1320 White Oaks Road for Paul Quintarelli.

Warehouse for Calvin D. Falcon at 81 Los Lake Lane for Calvin D. Falcon.

Interim zoning comes to bat

Next Monday night, March 10, the City Council is scheduled to discuss the matter of lifting, extending or changing the interim zoning that is now on the Railway-Dillon-Gilman area.

The interim zoning was established to allow time for city officials to freeze any proposed construction in the area until it was determined how the area should be developed in the future to the best advantage.

The area had been zoned industrial for many years and a number of new industrial buildings have been constructed. However, several local organizations, including a senior citizen group, have urged that the zoning be changed so that low rent multiple housing units could be constructed in the area.

ALL FOR A GOOD CAUSE--Bill Smeed, Campbell mayor, does his bit at the piano following the Friday night Gaslighter Theater benefit show while lovely Mrs. Jeanette Watson lends an appreciative ear. Mrs. Watson wore one of her authentic gowns to the show which was a joint benefit for the Campbell Beautification project and The Campbell Youth Employment committee. Benefit show aids two local projects

One of the high spots of the Campbell winter social scene was Friday night when a number of interested residents turned out for the benefit performance of the Gaslighter Theater production. Given for the joint benefit of the Campbell Youth Employment committee and the Campbell Beautification committee, both groups realized approximately $200 apiece which will be used for the advancement of the Campbell causes.

Seen enjoying themselves were the Bob Stewarts, the Myron Alexanders, the Don Hebards and the Al Blaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Chamberlin and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weymouth were among those present and beautification chairman Jeanette Watson and husband Courtland made a dramatic entrance in their ancient Overland—however because of the rain Courtland took the car home and reappeared in a more modern vehicle.

Jeanette and Courtland, by the way, did Campbell up proud in their willingness to dress up in their old time clothes as a nostalgic addition to the melodrama presented by the Gaslighter gang, and Jeanette added an informal touch to the "after performance" gathering with her expert tamborine presentation, as did Mrs. June Weitzel, president of the Campbell Jaycettes.

The Dale Scotts were observed enjoying the evening as well as the Murrarys, the Yerkovichs, the Phil Bakers and Mrs. Jeannie Gomes.

Sid Myring of Hazel Ave., an old time performer, brought down the house with his musical numbers and Len Edholm, Campbell Chamber of Commerce manager, displayed versatile talent on the banjo and also on the drums.

Also among those present were the Al Hansen's, the Bill Podgorsek's and Jerry Graham from Los Gatos, and Campbell Mayor William Smeed and

As part of the olio performance Don Cupp, MC for the evening, touched a sore spot in the Campbell business image by mentioning that Campbell has no car agency within the city limits.

However, a good time was had by all attending the show and a demand for a repeat performance was heard on all sides. The Gaslighter crew put on an excellent show and were well received by all attending.

Daughters host 25th observance

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Codner, former Campbell residents for six years, were guests of honor Sunday, Feb. 23, at a party celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. The party, given by their two oldest daughters, Mrs. Gary Cascino and Mrs. Charles A. Davis, both of San Jose, was given at the Codner's new residence at The Lake in Newark, where they moved recently with their youngest daughter, Kathleen Susan.

The party was attended by close friends and the family of the happy couple.

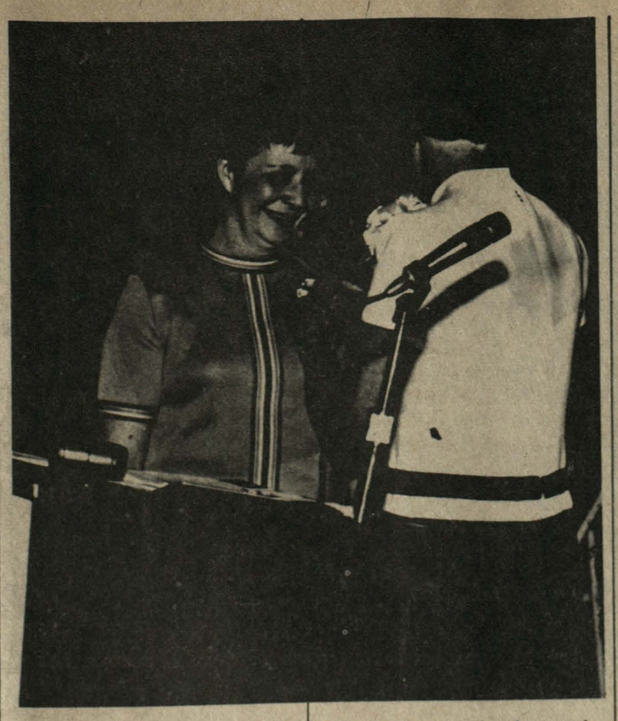
Grangers enjoy "Fun Night" at recent meet

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Glick took first prize at the recent meeting of the Orchard City Grange No. 333 for the clothes typifying the early days worn for the "Fun Night" program.

Other prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Neal McGillvray, second; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor, third prize. Judges for the hilarious affair were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Terrell of the San Jose Grange and Levi Richmond of the Gilroy Grange.

During the business meeting it was announced by Mrs. Barbara Carter that over 200 people had attended the last breakfast put on by the Grange members. Ted Bohn lecturer, was in charge of the program.

Over 250 people were present for the annual Early Settlers luncheon held in the Grange Hall on Feb. 22. Entertainment during the get-together was given by the Peppertones and the Three T's. Community singing was enjoyed.



HONORED---Honorary Lifetime Membership in Del Mar PTA was awarded to Mrs. Helmut Spruit of Los Gatos, left. The recognition was given for ten years service as Del Mar High's registrar and main office secretary. The honor is bestowed by Mrs. David Schrader, program chairman and past-president of the Del Mar PTA unit, as a part of their annual Founder's Day observance.

Prettol's observe 25th wedding anniversary

A HAPPY ANNIVERSARY--Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Prettol, on the left, are congratulated by Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Francine on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The Hardy Ave. residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Prettol was the scene of an open house held recently on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The celebration was sparked by the couple's two oldest children, Kenneth and Michal when they were home from college over the Christmas vacation. Although they were not able to attend on the happy occasion, messages from them were read aloud during the festivities by the Rev. Marvin Francine of the Evangelical Free Church of San Jose.

Rev. and Mrs. Francine were enlisted by the children to make the arrangements for the celebration which was attended by over 160 guests. Also assisting with the details was Mrs. Prettol's mother, Mrs. Leslie Johnson, of Lancaster, Calif.

A beautiful cake was served during the evening and Mrs. Prettol was presented with an orchid corsage, which was a duplicate of the one carried in her wedding bouquet when the couple were married Jan. 29, 1944 in Chatsworth, Calif.

Other honored guests present included Mr. Johnson, and Prettol's mother, Mrs. Angelina Prettol of Marina, Calif. The couple have four children, Kenneth who is attending college in Deerfield, Ill.; Michal, attending college in Canada; Tom, a student at Campbell High School and Jonathan, who attends Rosemary School.

Del Mar PTA celebrates 10th birthday

Ten candles, each lit by a past-president (or stand-in), formed the glowing candelabra in tribute to the tenth anniversary of Del Mar High School's Parent-Teacher unit, a highlight of the recent Founder's Day observance at Del Mar. In addition, an honorary lifetime membership to PTA was awarded to Mrs. Helmut (Judy) Spruit, registrar and office secretary for the past ten years at Del Mar.

As each past-president came forward to light the candle symbolizing her year of service to PTA, music was played to recall the most loved song-of-the-year, then popular. Each person attending the observance was given a program delineating the accomplishments and events of each year of the Del Mar PTA unit; these were read aloud as well.

A certificate of achievement was awarded to Del Mar teacher James O'Connor and a special plaque to honor the ten years of Del Mar PTA was presented to Principal George Miskulin along with a certificate of achievement honoring the principal himself.

A program followed in which the Del Mar Reading Laboratory techniques were demonstrated. A slate of new officers was announced and elected, headed by Mr. Dean Brown, unit president of PTA for 1969-1970.

NEIGHBORHOOD 17 TROOP 603

Damp weather didn't dampen the spirits of the Junior scouts of Troop 603 of St. Lucy's School as they spent a day in the out-of-doors at Vasona County Park.

The scouts practiced their firebuilding and then cooked a one-pot meal for their lunch with Camp Doughnuts for dessert.

Despite the muddy trails the girls enjoyed hiking about the park.

Girls in the troop are Lisa Ambrosini, Julie Boe, Teri Bucher, Elizabeth Cary, Kathy Cirivilleri, Nancy Cirivilleri, Jackie Clanton, Laura Connelly and Debbie Consolino.

Dana Derham, Arlene Gonzales, Eva Garcia, Colleen Griffin, Debbie Hawkins, Elena Herrera, Denise La Rocca and Michele La Rocca.

Kathy McGough, Kathy Mansfield, Debbie Marino, Mary Ann Martin, Peggy Matthews, Karen Nagengast, Mary O'Neill, Clare Richardson, Bernadette Sebban, Kathy Seebach, Cynthia Stangl, Kim Tacchini, Margaret Williams and Monica Williams.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. F. L. Ambrosini and Mrs. J. H. McGough.

TROOP 905

Brownie Troop 905 of Dover School are busy living up to the Brownie B's: Be a Discoverer, Be a Ready Helper and Be a Friend-maker.

The Scouts became discoverers through field trips to the Chinchilla Breeders Association, the Hocus Pocus TV Show, the Langendorf Bakery (where they received a treat of sweet rolls to take home) and the San Jose Airport (which included a tour through a jet plane).

The Scouts showed they were Ready Helpers when they filled 14 boxes for "Project Mexicali" at Christmastime after a visit to the San Jose Red Cross Headquarters.

The girls made friends with each other at the beginning of the school year by drawing pictures of things that they like and then sharing them with the troop.

Two crafts the troop has done were the making of wooden plaques using the "Decoupage" method and the making of valentines.

One of the Brownie mothers, Mrs. Pat Dimock, surprised the girls at their Christmas party by presenting each Brownie with her very own Christmas tree ornament, made from a mixture of flour, salt and water and painted. Each ornament was of a different design and they were hanging on a dowel tree when presented to the troop.

Girls in the troop are Janice Bassett, Jeanne Bisceglia, Christine Dobbs, Susan Drabkin, Liza Dimock, Julie Livingston, Lisa Obert and Jennifer Pope.

Liz Richardson, Kathleen Richardson, Jennifer Rike, Laura Riley and Rebecca Weldon.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Patrick J. Riley and Mrs. C. F. Livingston, Jr.

WHAT'S NEW for the HOME

It's Time for Checking Up, In, Out and Around Home

Spring, summer, fall, winter — any time is a good time to check up, clean up and fix up the home, and at least twice a year a thorough check for needed repairs and improvements is advisable.

Since it is important to inspect the entire home, both inside and out, this 10-step plan might be employed to insure a thorough job.

STEP ONE — Start on the outside and at the top. Look to the chimney for loose bricks, stones, missing mortar or corrosion of metal flashings. The roof may have loose or warped shingles to be renailed, cemented or replaced.

Guttering and downspouts always seem to need some work, if it's just to remove the leaves, or to repair, replace damaged parts.

STEP TWO — Check exterior walls for chalking and peeling.

Touch-ups or total repainting might be needed. Maybe this will be the year to install new siding.

Doors and windows must pass inspection, too. Look for cracks and rotting in wooden frames, broken panes to be replaced and loose panes to be secured.

STEP THREE—Still on the outside, but now at the bottom, check the foundation and basement.

Small cracks here are easily repaired with water proofing cement that can be applied with pointing tool or trowel.

STEP FOUR — Now for a look around the home grounds. A bit of trimming and planting might be just the thing to make the lawn and garden take shape.

Holes should be filled with gravel or sand, then covered with turf.

STEP FIVE — Now to the interior! Check the plumbing, heating and air conditioning. Pipes should be checked for rust, corrosion; furnaces, air conditioning units cleaned and tested. In all these areas professional assistance is a must.

STEP SIX — Check walls, ceilings and floors. Warping, cracking, peeling or just plain drabness are what to look for here. Today's easily applied wallpapers, paints, paneling and flooring can give home interiors a real face lift.

STEP SEVEN — Check kitchen, bath, laundry and utility areas. In addition to general refurbishing, new cabinets, fixtures and/or appliances may be needed.

STEP EIGHT — Check living space to see how it can be expanded or used more effectively. Unfinished basements are now easily transformed into family or game rooms, with the help of modern building materials.

Attics can be expanded and finished for added bedroom space, or perhaps a new addition to the home is in order. Get estimates now.

STEP NINE — Wiring should be inspected inside and out for its adequacy. Professional help is needed here.

STEP TEN — Step into action. Decide what work is to be done by "do-it-yourself" method, and what work is to be done with the help of home improvement specialists.

Shop, compare, get estimates—and get the job done. Rewards will result in terms of family living comfort and convenience.

ABOUT HARDBOARDS

Modern hardboards are durable, easy to maintain by occasional damp-wiping. They may be installed quickly with a time and work saving cartridge-type adhesive.

PLANTING LILIES

Lilies usually thrive in soil with some acidity, and in locations that combine ample sunshine with protection from wind.

UTILITY CONTAINER

Plastic household utility container called "Tear, Tote and Toss," has been developed by Republic Molding Corp., Chicago. It has its own built-in supply of disposable polyethylene liner-bags and can be used as a hamper, diaper receptacle, or for wet and dry refuse in kitchen or family room.

LOOKING LIKE BEAMS

In suspended ceiling installations, metal grids with walnut grain finish can be used to simulate appearance of beam construction and tie in with wood grain paneling on walls. Available in 10′ wall moldings and main runners in 2′ by 4′ cross tees, the walnut grain grid was developed by Conwed Corporation.

CUTTING FLOWERS

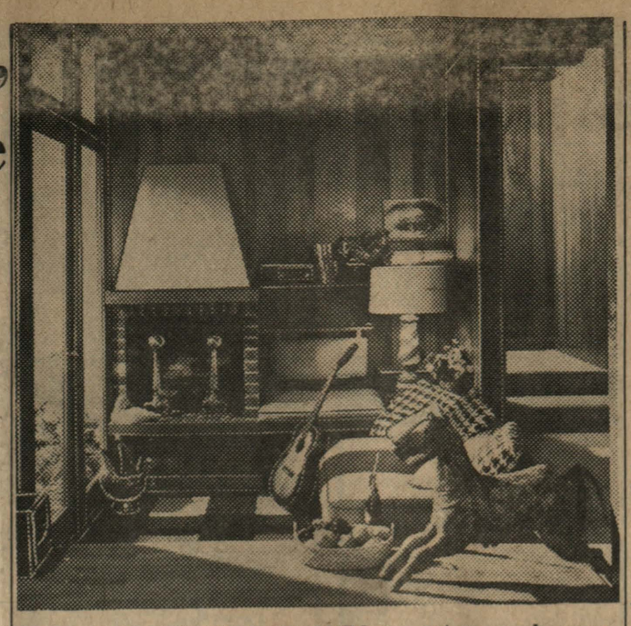
To spur blooming of annuals and perennials, cut terminal clusters of flowers, giving smaller side clusters space to expand.

WHEN TO PICK

Pick flowers during the early morning or early evening. They fade faster when picked under hot sun.

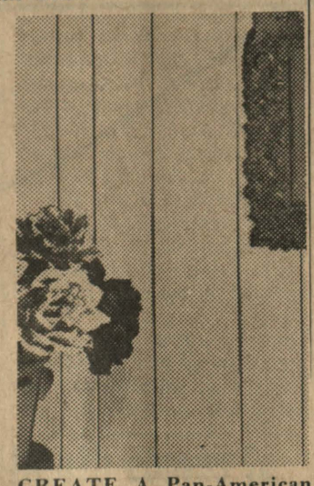
SHEET VINYL floor covering comes in six-foot widths for easy installation. "Wingfoot" flooring features sculptured patterns, textured surfaces in shades color-coordinated to new appliances. By Goodyear.

FOR REPAIRING eaves and downspouts, new aluminum tape makes airtight, watertight seal. Tape adheres to metal, wood, paper and similar materials. It's Arno tape.



SMALL BASEMENT EXPANDS INTO recreation area, by opening one wall to the outdoors and raising floor around fireplace. Pecan paneling defines the area. Suspended ceiling conceals old rafters, creates focal point. Weldwood paneling from U.S. Plywood; room design by Ving Smith A.I.D.

PRE-STAINED, rough-textured siding joins trend to prefinished building materials. Plywood siding shown is Plantex, with circular sawn pattern, available pre-stained in six earth-tone shades. By U.S. Plywood.



CREATE A Pan-American mood, is decorating look suggested for new interior paneling which features a sliced-oak grain embossed on plywood surfaces. It's Weldwood Ranchero by U.S. Plywood.

For Painting

A 4x7-inch fiber-coated foam pad has been designed for exterior latex painting of smooth siding, shake siding, gables and fences.

The lightweight applicator is swivel handled to paint at any angle, can be mounted on an extension pole for reaching high areas and is beveled to paint into tight corners and over irregular surfaces.

The painting pad, developed by EZ Paintr Corporation, uses Scott polyurethane foam.

FOR SHOWERING

Precision showerhead called "Mark Sixty" has 60 directional spray jets which form a filled-in spray pattern instead of the conventional ring of water, with a wide selection of spray patterns and water intensities.

Paint Remodels

Fast facelift for a room can often be accomplished, by a paint job. Modern convenience paints feature ease of application, fast drying and vanity of matching colors.

Pastels and light tints make small rooms seem airy, look larger. In large rooms, interest is added by combining pastel walls with accents of a deeper hue.

BATHTUB APPLIQUES

Appliques from Rubbermaid are designed to provide safety and add a decorative touch in tub or shower. The adhesive-backed appliques, in daisy shapes and white or colors, can be applied to tub or shower floor for a non-slip surface and safe, comfortable sitting or standing.

UNLIMITED SOFT WATER

Think of it—all the soft water you can use at new lower rates. Obsoletes all other soft water service. No tank exchange nuisance, no skimping on soft water. Nothing to buy!

ONLY $1.00 PER WEEK RENTAL

New—different, better soft water service. Electric automatic softeners, costs less, too! The most modern type of soft water service at lowest rates ever! Ask also about our rent-to-own plan.

SELF-STICKING 3-D wall panels create look of hand-rubbed wood, in French Provincial pattern shown, or in Spanish Classic or Colonial. From Decor-Wall's Town House group.

USE OF CERAMIC TILE TO brighten kitchen as well as help in keeping it clean is idea suggested here. Walls are covered with glazed wall tiles, while countertops, window box, range hood and floor are finished with ceramic mosaics. From Tile Council of America.

Four -H Club

"Father's Night was held recently by the Campbell 4-H Club at their community meeting in the Coventry School. The meeting was presided over by Kathleen Clancy, president, who called on the club members for project reports.

Demonstrating the right and wrong way to give a demonstration were Nancy Chivers, Stacey Smith, Paulette Antonicic and Judy Bain.

Mrs. Robert Wilkerson explained the ways to judge items and a judging event was held.

Refreshments and recreation followed the meeting and closed with the showing of the movie, "Beef in California".

ABOUT MOLDINGS

Factory finished moldings, from Georgia Pacific, are available to do-it-yourselfers to give home improvements a professional touch. Moldings come in most standard patterns which include base, base shoe, door and window casings, cove molding and inside or outside corner moldings.

PROTECTING HOME

Random "off" feature to help create the illusion that a house is occupied when residents are away is highlight of a new indoor protective lighting timer from Paragon Electric Co., Two Rivers, Wis. Timer can be set to turn lights on and off on any schedule. Random "off" button provides varying "off" times.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In a 1959 speech to the House of Representatives urging more POLARIS submarines, I warned against "building an ICBM Maginot Line and making the perennial military mistake of building fixed and immobile bases that can be overcome by the sheer weight, power and numbers of new weapons". But fixed ICBM bases were built and now ten years later we have a major controversy over deployment of an anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system to protect those bases.

At this time I am maintaining an open mind regarding the ABM and am awaiting the opportunity to study the intensive Pentagon review currently in progress. Too many people have prematurely climbed on either the "pro" or "con" bandwagon for emotional reasons not based on solid evidence. All seem to miss the really basic issue involved.

First, let's analyze the technical issue. Admittedly, the first ABM system would be like a Model T as compared to a Lincoln Continental. Of course the so-called "thin" system would be a step toward an improved and more expensive system. But who can say that the technical problems can't be solved just as readily as the problem of going to the moon.

Dr. Edward Teller settled the question of whether the H bomb was technically possible more than 20 years ago when another great debate consumed the nation. It was Harry Truman who made the decision to build it. Russia tested her first thermo-nuclear device shortly after we did and one can't help but wonder what a different world this might have been if Russia had been the sole possessor of the H bomb during the 1950's.

Then there is the question of whether an ABM system, a purely defensive deployment, would set off another arms race. Former Secretary Mc Namara testified that our response, should Russia develop an ABM system first, would be to manufacture more powerful multiple warheads. Thus, failure to build the SENTINEL system could actually start an arms race which would not save ABM dollars for investment in urban ghettoes as some hope it would.

There are two alternatives to an arms race. One is to maintain strategic balance so neither side would risk an attack upon the other. The other would be a concession by one nation to the permanent strategic superiority of another nation. (This would be the case if only one side had an ABM system and the other did nct increase its offensive capability.)

To make such a concession, the United States would need to know positively that the Soviet Union truly wants peace. The strategy of deterrence presumes a state of mind in a potential enemy where he realizes that if he strikes first, there would be retaliation, so he doesn't strike at all. Much as I would like to say it with confidence, I don't believe Russia's "state of mind" would be one of restraint if we conceded strategic superiority.

So, it seems to me, the most basic issue is how can we preserve our capacity to strike back if an enemy strikes first?

The choice must seemingly be made between two alternatives. Either we will have to build an ABM system, or have so much offensive power that we can always strike back. But there is another choice – the one I advocated almost 10 years ago – disbursing our strategic deterrent power across the seven seas in POLARIS submarines where it can be protected by hundreds of feet of ocean instead of an expensive and controversial ABM system.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Here's an interesting example of how much more accurate basketball shooters are today over players of the past . . . Each year shooting percentages seem to increase and someone has compiled figures to prove it . . . Just taking one example, pro basketball players 20 years ago sank just about 29 out of every 100 shots taken... Players today sink almost 45 out of every 100 shots.

Record is held by a 12-year old boy, Bernard Malivoire of France, who won a gold medal in the 1952 Olympics by serving as the coxswain in a rowing event . . . Youngest girl ever to win an Olympic gold medal was 13-year old Marjorie Gestring of the U.S. who won a diving event in the 1936 games.

Letters to the Editor

DEFENDS POLICE

Dear Editor;

I guess you might say I'm getting on the band wagon. I've read two letters in our Campbell Press, one referring to the great job our Campbell Police did on a stormy night and one in regards to police brutality.

All I know is this, I'm tired of hearing and reading about upsets on College Campuses, (either go to school to learn or get out), and the riots everywhere. I don't care if you are black, white, brown, green or polka dotted, if an officer of our law enforcement tells you to stop, STOP!

Come on Citizens of our great United States of America lets get behind our law enforcement and make this country again a decent place for people to walk down the street after dark. Leave law enforcement in the hands of the people who know how to handle it, no other than our Policeman and Highway Patrol. Lets build this country up instead of tearing it down for Communism.

And I would like to say to our Policemen, Highway Patrol, where ever you work, whatever your job, thank you for the terrific job you do with as little authority that has been left to you by the Citizens of this Country.

Thank you to the Campbell Press for the space (if this is printed) to air my opinion, as small as it might be.

Sincerely,
Mrs. William Morris

Property owners collect refund

The old merchandising rule of "one-to-a-customer" applies to the Proposition 1-A tax refund of $70, the County Assessor's Office warns, and property owners who file more than one refund application could face prosecution.

The refund was authorized by California voters in November for any person who owned and lived in a home, a duplex, or a condominium apartment on March 1, 1968.

The law rules out refunds to veterans who receive the veterans tax exemption and it limits property owners to one refund.

Assessor Dwight Mathiesen reports that some owners seem unaware of this limit because they appear to be filing a refund claim for each piece of property they own.

One man has filed ten applications for the refund.

Fund will aid minority race quaalified teachers candidates

A drive is under way to create a scholarship fund for qualified minority-race candidates for teaching credentials in California schools.

Sponsoring the drive at West Valley College is the chapter of the California Teachers Association, headed by Kenneth Schock, who is also chairman of the college's Business Education Division.

Schock has appointed Mrs. Betty Tusup to act as local representative of the campaign, which began in conjunction with Negro History Week and is named in honor of the late Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., martyred non-violent leader of the American civil rights movement.

The statewide drive, of which the West Valley College move is a part, has had an "encouraging initial response", according to Eugene M. Peshel of San Diego, member of the California Teachers Association Board of Directors.

Peshel said the 165,000-member statewide organization is sponsoring the fund because of the increasing demand for qualified public school teachers from Negro, Mexican-American and Oriental races.

Mrs. Tusup added that the object of the committee is to "create a self-perpetuating fund large enough to provide annual awards to credential candidates in the fifth academic year of their preparation".

"The number of awards", she said, "will, of course, depend on the size of the fund".

Candidates will be sought who endorse the non-violent teaching philosophy of the late Dr. King.

Also, Mrs. Tusup said, that each contributor of $3 or more to the fund will be presented a copy of a beautiful 52-page book illustrating in words and pictures the life of the great civil rights leader.

New members for the Legion Post include Gary Anderson, Mel Brown, Ken Casebolt, Jeff Cockerill, Art Crawford, Lyell Darton, Peter DeLash, Gary Eisenbeis, Clarence Fox, Ane Goldstein, William Grubbs.

As I View It

BY JOHN W. GILBAUGH

Someone said, when the pot boils the scum rises to the surface. A most fitting illustration of this principle may be found on American college campuses which are caught in the throe of violent upheaval. And, we are kept ever mindful of the erosive effects on higher education as we sit helplessly before our television sets and view the campus warfare being waged by the black and white faculty subversives, anarchists and revolutionists - followed by dissident students.

Though taxpayers who are financing the campus war may be repulsed as they see miniskirted coeds with unkempt, Gorgon-like tresses or male students with uncombed, shoulder-length hair and matted beards crossing their television screens, and hear reports of bombed and rebel-seized campus buildings, there is little they can do. That is, except continue to pay their taxes or go to jail.

The dismal failure of our elected and appointed representatives, in all branches of government, to restore order to our campuses is beyond belief. The lack of courage and decisive action by duly constituted officials in whom the overwhelming majority of the electorate has placed its trust, is as deplorable and reprehensible as the subversion committed by the revolutionist professors and their brainwashed, dissident student pawns.

In response to a recent column by this writer, a reader summed up quite eloquently and accurately the current state at which society has arrived. In part, he wrote, "The use of our campus and civil police as a chopping block for black and white thugs, revolutionists, murderers and arsonists, and the refusal of our prosecutors to prosecute and our judges to convict and imprison the guilty has demoralized our law enforcement.

"The preferential coddling of thugs and mobs of blacks has angered our youth who are demanding equal opportunity to commit crimes with impunity.

"My travels within California and the Western United States have uncovered an astounding movement by formerly peaceful citizens to vigilante society. The deliberate and certain rule of mob law, by so-called 'militants', unhampered by vested officials on and off campus has left no alternative to the decent and unprotected citizen, except organization and armament on the community level, either with or without police sanction."

Our elected and appointed governmental officials, in seeking solutions to the campus chaos, have overlooked a most important fact in the spate of laws they have introduced. That is, guts and backbone cannot be legislated! Unless the politicians awaken to this realization and cease their handwringing and sparring for political advantage, they, along with the rest of us may soon be goosestepping to a form of government dictated to all of us by the revolutionists.

Death comes to C. K. Vierhus, 100

Less than six weeks after he had reached his 100th birthday, death came to Conrad K. Vierhus in his home in Oceanside, Calif.

He died on Saturday, March 1.

On his birthday, Jan. 21, friends, relatives and townspeople had joined with staff of the hospital, where he was recovering from surgery, to fete his reaching that rare milestone in age, the century mark.

He had been home from the hospital for only a few weeks when he passed away in his sleep.

Born in Canada in 1869, Mr. Vierhus, the father of John Vierhus, of Los Gatos, and George Vierhus, of Campbell, had spent his early "pioneering" in North Dakota. But he had resided in California for almost 50 years.

Mr. Vierhus in 1907 was married to the former Theresa Conley, who died in 1936. There were four children of this marriage of which the two sons survive; one daughter having died in infancy and another in 1959.

Mr. Vierhus was in business in Chowchilla, Calif. from 1920 to 1945 when he retired. In that same year he married Dr. Lucy Kilgore, a retired medical doctor and former bible college instructor, and they moved to Oceanside where "Dr. Lucy" had a home.

Both he and his wife were active in the First Baptist Church of Oceanisde, regularly attending services, assisting in Sunday School and taking part in other church events.

Funeral services were held in Oceanside on Wednesday morning followed by burial in the Oceanside cemetery.

In addition to his wife and two sons, Mr. Vierhus is survived by two grandsons, Jack Vierhus, of San Jose, and Rick Vierhus, of Los Gatos. Four great-grandchildren also survive.

CENTRAL WEST VALLEY LOCATION—BASCOM & CAMPBELL AT HIWAY 17

THE PRUNEYARD is a 34 acre, 416,000 square foot office and specialty shopping complex architecturally designed in heavy Spanish, reminiscent of our early California heritage. In bold contrast rises THE TOWERS, an 18 story, starkly modern, all glass office building, tastefully designed to blend with the unusually rich and ornate ground floor environment. The development is located at the GEOGRAPHIC CENTER OF GREATER METROPOLITAN SAN JOSE, and offers the "very finest" in office and shopping accommodations. Occupancy available fall 1969.
